Development of Project Design: Developing the Schedules of Non-Conforming Measures for the Cambodian Financial Services Sector under RCEP

No.	Questions	Responses
1	Section XI.B notes that the Facility benchmarks international adviser costs to DFAT's Aid Adviser Remuneration Framework. Is there an indicative budget or ceiling for this design assignment?	Yes, there is. However, it is confidential information. Bidders may consider the number of allocated professional days in accordance with DFAT's Aid Adviser Remuneration Framework.
2	If in-country travel to Phnom Penh is anticipated for the Deliverable 2 stakeholder consultations, should travel and associated costs be included in the Financial Proposal, and against what guidance?	For this assignment, we do not anticipate the need for any significant travel/accommodation and other out-of-pocket expenses. If the bidder considers these costs necessary, the bidder may propose a contingency budget. However, its use is subject to RT4D's consideration and approval. Firms or individual consultants based outside of Cambodia may consider subcontract Cambodia-based consultant(s) to meet this requirement. Please indicate this clearly in the proposal.
3	Section IV references an approved Project Concept and a Project Design Template that the selected Consultant will be given access to. Could these be made available to registered tenderers now to inform proposal preparation, or are they available only after award?	The mentioned documents will only be provided to the selected consultant. However, bidders may refer to the Table in Section A.3 Activity 3 – Develop Project Design Draft for key information covered in the project design.
4	Is there a page limit or a required format or template for the Technical Proposal?	No, there is no page limit.
5	In what currency should the Financial Proposal be denominated?	Australian Dollars
